

Convince the people of Sugar Smart World to make healthier swaps!

Complete the comic strip. Don't forget to use correct punctuation.

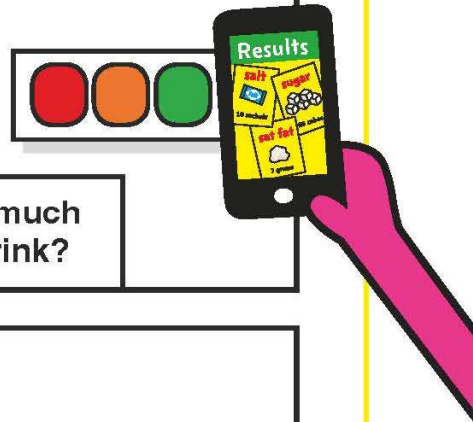

Get creative!
Example:

1. Why shouldn't they have too much sugar?

A cartoon character of a tooth with a face, arms, and legs, looking slightly sad or thoughtful. It has a small crown on its top.

A traffic light with three lights: red, orange, and green. To its right, a hand is holding a smartphone. The phone screen displays a 'Results' page with a bar chart showing 'sugar' and 'fat' levels. The 'sugar' bar is significantly higher than the 'fat' bar.

2. How can they find out how much sugar is in their food and drink?

3. What is one swap they can make?

An illustration showing a 'Cake Bars' package on the left, a green arrow pointing to the right with the word 'Swap' written on it, and a pink, multi-layered cake on the right. A blue circular sticker with the words 'sugar free' is on the side of the cake.

A large empty rectangular box for drawing or writing.

4. What is another swap they can make?

