HIGHLIGHTS

SRP Adventurers

Junaid, Michael and Saleem who are all part of our Specialist Resource Provision have been in a creative mood!

They were set a challenge by Mrs McCafferty to come up with a creative idea linked to the Year 3 focus text Charlie and the Chocolate Factory - unsurprisingly they chose to invent a new chocolate bar.

Mixing white chocolate and dried strawberries, the boys created their delicious bar and designed the packaging as well.

They wanted their classmates to know how it would feel to win a chocolate bar so they hid golden tickets inside 3 of the bars. The children who were lucky enough to win a bar reported that they tasted fantastic.

Not satisfied with leaving it there, the boys wrote a letter and sent a sample of their creation to the research and development team at Cadbury's, who wrote back saying how impressed they were and included a voucher.

We are so proud of the hard work and ingenuity of Saleem, Junaid and Michael.

ONLINE SAFETY

HOW DO I KNOW IF I HAVE BEEN MEAN TO OTHERS ONLINE?

Before you answer, think carefully.

You may have bullied someone online if you have ever:

- sent hurtful messages, comments or images
- forwarded a mean message sent by someone else
- shared messages with other kids that were just meant for you
- deliberately left someone out
- spread lies about someone
- been mean to other players while gaming
- created a fake online profile to make fun of someone

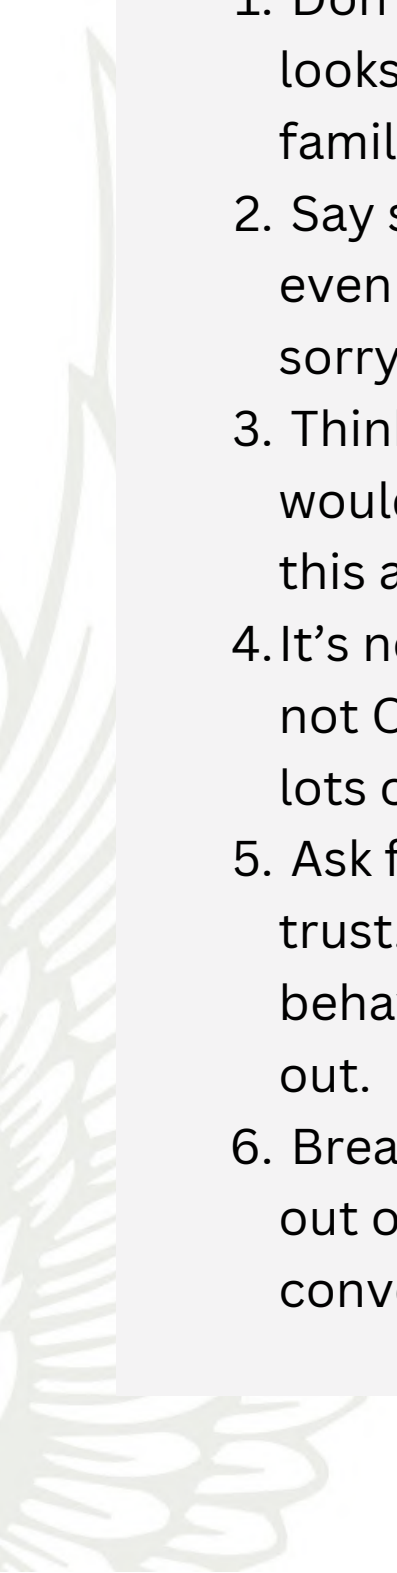

How does it feel to be cyberbullied?

- Some people who are bullied online say the bullying follows them everywhere, even on holidays.
- It can feel like the only way to escape is to stay offline. This can feel very lonely and cuts people off from friends and support.
- Being bullied can make you feel anxious, depressed and lonely.
- Some people may feel angry and want to hurt the person who has been bullying them.

ONLINE SAFETY

WHAT TO DO

1. Don't get personal — picking on how someone looks, how they talk, their race, religion or family background is not OK.
 2. Say sorry — if you have hurt someone else, even if you didn't mean to hurt them, say sorry.
 3. Think before you hit send — ask yourself 'how would I feel if someone shared something like this about me?'
 4. It's not just about likes — remember that it is not OK to send or post something that will get lots of likes if it hurts someone else.
 5. Ask for help — talk to an adult you admire and trust. They can help you change your behaviour and will respect you for reaching out.
 6. Break the cycle — if it is safe to do so, call it out or say something else to change the conversation.

CURD CORNER

As you know, we try to recycle as much as we can at Glebe. Sofia in Year 4 is her class eco rep and she has made a pen recycling booth herself to help the children in Year 3 and 4 to get involved.

You may have already seen it at the front entrance but this week, gardening club created a special display for the upcoming coronation. It will soon be blooming in red, white and blue with some regal purple too.

Transition to Teenager in Girls Project: Online Research

We are conducting research to understand mental health and well-being in girls as they transition into the teenage years.

If you are a girl seeing this who wants to take part, show this to your parent/guardian and they can contact the researcher.

To take part, they must be between 11 and 13.5 years old when they sign up.

What is involved in taking part?

Girls will be asked to do two 30-minute meetings on zoom over 1 year. In these meetings, girls will answer questions by ticking boxes about mental health, social relationships, camouflaging (tendency to want to blend in), and menstruation (periods). The researcher will be there to help them.

Benefits of taking part Findings from this study will be used to create booklets for parents/guardians and school staff to support well-being in girls.

We want all girls to take part meaning neurodivergent girls are also very welcome (autistic, ADHD, dyspraxia and/or on a waiting list for an assessment).

To learn more about this study you can email:

Ailbhe McKinney at a.m.mckinney@sms.ed.ac.uk or call/text 07388454435.
