

Year 3:

Relationships

R1. to recognise and respond appropriately to a wider range of feelings in others

R2. to recognise what constitutes a positive, healthy relationship and develop the skills to form and maintain positive and healthy relationships

R3. to recognise ways in which a relationship can be unhealthy and whom to talk to if they need support

R4. to recognise different types of relationship, including those between acquaintances, friends, relatives and families

R5. that civil partnerships and marriage are examples of a public demonstration of the commitment made between two people who love and care for each other and want to spend their lives together and who are of the legal age to make that commitment

Health and well-being

H1. what positively and negatively affects their physical, mental and emotional health

H2. how to make informed choices (including recognising that choices can have positive, neutral and negative consequences) and to begin to understand the concept of a 'balanced lifestyle'

H3. to recognise opportunities and develop the skills to make their own choices about food, understanding what might influence their choices and the benefits of eating a balanced diet

H4. to recognise how images in the media (and online) do not always reflect reality and can affect how people feel about themselves

H5. to reflect on and celebrate their achievements, identify their strengths and areas for improvement, set high aspirations and goals

H6. to deepen their understanding of good and not so good feelings, to extend their vocabulary to enable them to explain both the range and intensity of their feelings to others

Living in the wider world

L1. to research, discuss and debate topical issues, problems and events that are of concern to them and offer their recommendations to appropriate people

L2. why and how rules and laws that protect them and others are made and enforced, why different rules are needed in different situations and how to take part in making and changing rules

L3. to understand that there are basic human rights shared by all peoples and all societies and that children have their own special rights set out in the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of the Child

L4. that these universal rights are there to protect everyone and have primacy both over national law and family and community practices
